NEGRONI SELECTION

The Negroni takes its name from a real life person. Count Camillo Negroni was a free wheeling nobleman who during a fateful visit to Florence's Caffe Rivoire around 1919, decided that the trendy Americano -- Campari, Sweet Vermouth & Soda Water -- wasn't enough, so he asked the bartender to swap the soda water for Gin and on that moment, the Negroni was created.

The Negroni From 25
You can't beat a classic. Campari, Gin and Antica Formula vermouth are gently stirred and strained over a large cube of ice and garnished with an orange twist
The price will vary depending on what Gin you choose. Please refer to Gin selection for full choice.

Montenegroni 26
A great twist on the classic. Using Amaro Montenegro, Four Pillars Rare Dry Gin and Antica Formula vermouth this variation represents everything that is Melbourne and Italian

Americano 25
The Ancestor of the Negroni. Campari, Antica Formula vermouth and Soda Water are gently stirred and strained over a large cube of ice and garnished with a Lemon twist

Negroni Sbagliato 25
The Wrong Negroni. Campari, Antica Formula vermouth and Prosecco are gently stirred and strained over a large cube of ice and garnished with a Lemon and Orange twist

Milano-Torino 25
The two Iconic products of two Italian cities. Campari, born in Milan and Cocchi Vermouth di Torino sweet vermouth born in Turin combine for a perfect aperitif cocktail, are gently stirred and strained over a large cube of ice and garnished with a Lemon and Orange twist

VINI AL BICCHIERE / WINE BY THE GLASS

Italy has a long history of wine making and has crafted their wine to go with food.
Start your night off with a glass of Prosecco or Champagne...
Feel like seafood or some lighter dishes? Try the Fiano or Pecorino for a great match.
Prefer something more well know and easy to drink? Head towards the Pinot Grigio or Sauvignon Blanc.
Don't forget the Chardonnay if you want a fuller bodied wine from a hidden gem of a wine making area.

Pizza, pasta, steak and hearty dishes is what Italy is about.
Nothing goes better than a glass of red wine.
Try the great grape varieties of Italy: Sangiovese and Nebbiolo for a wonderful food and wine match.
Prefer something lighter, than head for the Pinot Noir.
Something in between? Try the Grenache blend.
Don't rule out the Rosé if you want something in between white and red.
And for those with a sweet tooth, you can't go past the Moscato.

VINI FRIZZANTI / SPARKLING WINE

Italy's most produced sparkling wine is a name that nearly everyone knows... Prosecco.
With the best hailing from Veneto in northeast Italy, Prosecco is made from the Glera grape variety and is usually made in a different method to Champagne.
The top regions to look for are Conegliano and Valdobbiadene as well as the famous Cartizze.

Franciacorta is another sparkling wine from the Italian province of Brescia. It is made in the same way as Champagne but only use grapes grown within the Franciacorta region consisting of Chardonnay, Pinot Noir and Pinot Bianco. This is a must try sparkling. Cheaper than Champagne with superior high quality.

Corvina is one of the main grape varieties that goes into making Valpolicella and the more well known Amarone wine. Blended along with the grape varieties Rondinella and Molinara, Valpolicella usually ends up being light in colour and texture, fragrant and elegant. A great Pinot Noir alternative.

Amarone is a rich, expressive red wine made from Valpolicella.

Amarone is produced in the same way as red wine, however, for Amarone, the grapes are dried following harvest (Appassimento technique), and it's the raisinated fruit that gets pressed and fermented. This drying of the grapes concentrates the sugars and completely changes the balance of juice and skin. The combination of both means that there is more sugar for the yeast to ferment into alcohol, leading to more powerful wines. There is also more tannin, since the skins play a more significant role.

Amarone, in fact, loosely translates to "big bitter."

Nebbiolo, the reigning monarch of Italian wines, hailed as 'The King Of Italian Wines' and 'The Wine Of Kings.' Italy's pride and joy, Nebbiolo thrives in its homeland, showcasing its excellence in renowned wines like Barolo and Barbaresco. With its translucent hue and delicate aroma, Nebbiolo wines typically boast robust tannins and a refreshing acidity, making them perfect for meat or tomato based dishes.

The Langhe is a region in Piemonte that is famed for growing Nebbiolo and means 'Long' or 'Low Lying' in local dialect. Langhe Nebbiolo, often regarded as a youthful counterpart to the esteemed Barolo and Barbaresco, embodies a similar full bodied essence and structure, boasting refined, elegant tannins that lend themselves to extensive aging. Ideal for those eager to explore the flavors of Barolo and Barbaresco.
Pair it with classic hearty dishes for a sublime dining experience.

At the base of the Italian Alps, ninety miles northeast of Alba, is the little-known winegrowing area of Alto Piemonte. The region, acquired its name more for its high altitude rather than for its relative location to the Langhe. Alto Piemonte literally translates to 'high Piedmont'. It is an Alpine paradise set amid forest-clad hills on the banks of the Sesia River. It was once Italy's largest and most important region for Nebbiolo production until the late 1800s where the area was decimated by phylloxera.
Gattinara is the largest and well-known region of the Alto Piemonte area. The Nebbiolo here was originally planted by the Roman Empire in the 2nd century, BC

Located in the picturesque landscape of Piemonte, northwestern Italy, Barbaresco produces one of the great expressions of Nebbiolo in the world. With the main vineyards situated in the Langhe region along the right bank of the Tanaro river, its vineyards stretch from the northeast of Alba to the communes of Barbaresco, Neive and Treiso.

By law, Barbaresco can only be made from the Nebbiolo grape. Benefiting from a slightly maritime climate these grapes tend to ripen earlier than those in Barolo resulting in wines that are less tannic, full of acidity and more approachable at an earlier age. The wines exhibit rich, spicy flavors and perfumed sweetness and is considered more elegant and approachable than its counterpart, Barolo, which is a more robust and longer-lived red.

Barolo is a prestigious Italian DOCG wine hailing from the Italian region of Piedmont. Made exclusively with 100% Nebbiolo, an indigenous grape variety of Italy, it is aged for at least 3 years at cellar before release.

Usually light and translucent in color, Barolo is typically very well-structured, with a full body profile, good acidity and strong tannin, while expressing the aromas of raspberry, cherry, tar and rose on the nose.

Barolo DOCG encompasses 11 communes, the five most prominent ones being: Barolo, La Morra, Castiglione Falletto, Serralunga d'Alba, and Monforte d'Alba. Each commune produces Barolo of their own style due to their individual terroir. Barolo and La Morra tend to produce softer wines with good fruitiness, the other three communes produce more intense wines that require longer ageing.
